

Advisory Council Profile

Bryn Richards

Director, Digipulse Ltd

Bryn is an entrepreneur and technical team leader with a focus on energy efficiency and CO2. He is an engineer trained in mechanical and electrical disciplines, and he is the author of patents and papers on electric motors, electronics, and thermodynamic systems. He has grown startups by forging successful collaborations with large and multinational incumbents. He is most proud of building teams and management systems that foster genuine collaboration and cross-optimisation between different disciplines (electrical and mechanical engineers, artists and manufacturing engineers, turbomachinery experts and thermodynamics experts).
